

PSAT (Pre SAT) Comprehensive Review Class By Invitation Only

WHAT? 90% of class attendees who prepared for the PSAT with SEC scored in the 99th percentile. This three hour long test covers evidence based Reading, Writing and Language, Math with a calculator AND Math without a calculator. The Reading section is elevated with a much stronger non-fiction base than we have ever seen before. Non fiction passages have a strong current natural science or current social science platform. Reading passages may include charts and graphs. Besides having the section where no calculator is allowed, there are also many more word problems in Math than previous versions of the test. High end, fast paced class.

WHY? Learning the strategies and content of the PSAT will allow students to become more confident. This can increase their scoring potential. All of the sections on the test focus on Common Core skills. Gain confidence and start to prepare early for National Merit potential. Learn the strategies and techniques necessary to 'ACE' this test.

WHO SHOULD ENROLL? It is highly recommended that sophomores as well as Juniors take this test this year to get a baseline on how they might do next year. However, National Merit scores are only valid during the Junior year. SEC has a free three hour diagnostic test for the PSAT. The Official PSAT testing dates are mid-October. Admission to class by invitation ONLY based on PSAT diagnostic test scores.
